1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 Class Representatives B.W., B.A., B.B., Jane Doe No. 1, and Jane Doe No. 3 (“Class
3 Representatives” or “Plaintiffs”), on behalf of the Settlement Class, hereby move the Court for entry 4 of an order granting final approval of the Settlement Agreement (the “Settlement Agreement” or 5 “Settlement”). Defendants San Diego Fertility Center Medical Group, Inc. (“SDFC”), and Ivy 6 Fertility Services, LLC (individually, “Ivy,” and collectively with SDFC, the “Defendants”) do not 7 oppose this motion. Class Representative and Defendants are collectively referred to herein as the 8 “Parties.”<sup>1</sup>

9 I. Introduction

10 On April 10, 2025, this Court entered the preliminary approval order for a proposed class 11 action settlement between Plaintiffs and Defendants. See April 10, 2025 Order Granting Unopposed 12 Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (“Prelim. Approval Order”). Class 13 Counsel’s efforts created distinct monetary benefits for the approximately 58,258 Class Members in 14 the form of a $850,000.00 non-reversionary common fund which will be used to pay, subject to Court 15 approval, the following:
16

- 17 a. Pro Rata cash payments to all Class Members who submit a valid claim form; 18 b. The Settlement Administrator’s Notice and Settlement Administration Costs; 19 Settlement Class Representative Service Awards; 20 c. Class Counsel’s Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses Award; and 21 d. The distribution of any uncashed funds that remain after the Pro Rata Payment 22 Reminder Notice (to be considered Residual Funds) via cy pres distribution.

23 The Settlement involved a comprehensive notice program and user-friendly claims process 24 which has been (and continues to be) implemented by the Settlement Administrator, EisnerAmper.
25 See Declaration of Ryan Aldridge of EisnerAmper In Support of Final Approval (“Aldridge Decl.”)

26 _____
27 <sup>1</sup> All capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein have the same meanings as set forth in the 28 Settlement Agreement and Release (“Settlement Agreement” or “SA”), which was filed as Exhibit A to the Declaration of Vess A. Miller in Support of Plaintiffs’ Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (“Miller Decl.”).

1 (attached hereto as Exhibit 1). The Court-approved notice program provided direct notice by email 2 or mail, the creation of a toll-free telephone number to answer Class Members' questions, and the 3 creation of a Settlement Website. Id. ¶¶ 7-13.

4         The reaction from Settlement Class Members has been positive and strongly supports final 5 approval. 56,730 claim forms were received prior to the deadline to submit Settlement Claims. Id. ¶ 6 15. As explained below, the claims rate of almost 13% is well above the claims rate in many other 7 large data privacy settlements which were granted final approved. Moreover, the deadline to file 8 objections or to request exclusion was June 24, 2025. Id. ¶ 19. Only five (5) Class Members objected, 9 all of which were submitted via the form available on the Settlement Website, and only two of which 10 contained any substantive remarks. Id. ¶ 17. Moreover, only fourteen (14) Class Members have 11 requested exclusion. Id. ¶ 16. Considering the valuable benefits conveyed to Class Members, and the 12 significant risks they would face through continued litigation, the Settlement is fair, reasonable, and 13 adequate and merits final approval.<sup>2</sup>

16 II. The Settlement Consideration

17         The Settlement provides substantial restitution to Class Members. The Total Monetary 18 Settlement is a non-reversionary $850,000. See Settlement Agreement ¶ 1.7. This fund will pay the 19 following: (1) Class Members' claims, (2) the costs of notice and claims administration, (3) Plaintiffs' 20 attorneys' fees and costs, and (4) an incentive award to Plaintiffs. Id.

21         To date, 7,777 Class Members have submitted a claim and will receive cash payments of 22 approximately $58.00 per claim. See Aldridge Decl. ¶ 15. Each Class Member was able to submit a 23 claim either electronically through the settlement website or by mail. Settlement Agreement ¶ 5.1.

26
27 <sup>2</sup> In the interest of judicial efficiency, for the factual and procedural background of the proposed 28 Settlement, Plaintiffs respectfully refer the Court to, and hereby incorporate by reference, the case summary and procedural history in Plaintiffs' Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement and Memorandum in Support, filed on January 10, 2025.

1 There will be no reversion to Defendants. Id. Any unclaimed funds will be disbursed cy pres. Id. ¶ 2 7.5.

3 III. The Notice Program

4 The Court appointed EisnerAmper to disseminate class notice and to administer the 5 Settlement. Prelim. Approval Order ¶ 9. In accordance with the Court’s directive, EisnerAmper 6 employed direct notice that has been effective. On April 8, 2025, EisnerAmper received one Excel 7 file containing two tabs of data with a combined total of 58,496 records (“Class List”). Aldridge Decl.
8 ¶ 6. After deduplicating the data, EisnerAmper determined that the Settlement Class Member 9 population consists of 58,273 unique records. Id.

10 Prior to mailing Notice, all mailing addresses were checked against the National Change of 11 Address (NCOA) database maintained by the United States Postal Service (“USPS”). In addition, the 12 addresses were certified via the Coding Accuracy Support System (CASS) to ensure the quality of 13 the zip code and verified through Delivery Point Validation (DPV) to verify the accuracy of the 14 addresses. Id. ¶ 8. Of the 58,273 Settlement Class Member records, 15 records did not successfully 15 pass the address validation procedures noted above. Id.

16 On April 25, 2025, EisnerAmper, in accordance with the Preliminary Approval Order caused 17 the Notice to be sent to the 58,258 Settlement Class Members that passed address validation. Id. ¶ 9.
18 EisnerAmper also executed supplemental mailings for 1,249 Settlement Class Members for which 19 the initial Postcard Notice was not deliverable but for which EisnerAmper was able to obtain an 20 alternative mailing address through (1) forwarding addresses provided by the USPS, (2) skip trace 21 searches using a third-party vendor database, or (3) requests received directly from Settlement Class 22 Members. Mail notice delivery statistics are detailed in Section 14 below. Id.

23 Through the Notice procedures outlined above, EisnerAmper attempted to send direct notice 24 to 58,258 (99.97%) Settlement Class Members with sufficient mailing information to attempt notice.
25 Id. ¶ 14. As of June 24, 2025, the Notice Program reached a total of 56,714 (97.32%) of Settlement 26 Class Members. Id.

27 In addition to the direct notice, on April 25, 2025, EisnerAmper published the Settlement 28 Website, www.SDFCIVYPixelSettlement.com. Id. ¶ 11. The Website contains a summary of the 1 Settlement, important dates and deadlines, contact information for the Settlement Administrator, 2 answers to frequently asked questions, downloadable copies of relevant documents, including the 3 Notice, the Claim Form, as well as Court Documents, such as the Class Action Amended Complaint, 4 the Settlement Agreement, the Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval, Orders of the Court, 5 and other relevant documents. Id. Visitors were also able to submit claims electronically, important 6 dates and deadlines, and contact information for the Settlement Administrator. Id. As of June 24, 7 2025, the Settlement Website received 25,435 unique visits.

8 On April 25, 2025, EisnerAmper established a dedicated toll-free telephone number, 1-844-9 755-4754, which is available twenty-four hours per day. Id. ¶ 12. Settlement Class Members can call 10 and interact with an interactive voice response system that provides important settlement information 11 and offers the ability to leave a voicemail message to address specific requests or issues. Id.
12 EisnerAmper also provided copies of the Notice, paper Claim Form, as well as the Settlement 13 Agreement, upon request to Settlement Class Members, through the toll-free number. Id. The toll-14 free number appeared in all Notices, as well as in multiple locations on the Settlement Website. The 15 toll-free number will remain active through the close of this Notice Program. Id. EisnerAmper also 16 established an Email address, info@SDFCIVYPixelSettlement.com, to provide an additional option 17 for Settlement Class Members to address specific questions and requests to the Settlement 18 Administrator for support. Id. ¶ 13.

19 The Settlement has been well-received by the Class. Class Members had until June 24, 2025, 20 to submit a claim. Id. ¶ 15. The online claim submission feature was available beginning April 25, 21 2025. As of the claims deadline, EisnerAmper has received a total of 7,777 claims submissions, of 22 which 7,260 claims have been determined to be non-duplicative and from Settlement Class Members; 23 a claims rate of 12.98%. Id.; see also Duran v. Obesity Research Institute, LLC (2016) 1 Cal. App.
24 5th 635, 642-644 (approving class settlement where 895 claims forms were submitted after notice 25 was sent to 237,334 class members, representing a claims rate of less than 1%); Law Enforcement
26 Officer v. J2 Web Servs. (LA Super. Mar. 24, 2017) 2017 Cal. Super. LEXIS 8113, at *12-13 27 (approving class settlement where 520 claims forms were submitted after notice was sent to 167,569 28 class members, representing a claims rate of less than 1%); Bayat v. Bank of the West (N.D. Cal. Apr.

1 15, 2015) 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 50416 (settlement with claims rate of 1.9% approved); Abante
2 Rooter & Plumbing v. Pivotal Payments (N.D. Cal. Oct. 15, 2018) 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 232054, 3 at *13-15 (holding that a 2% claims rate is not a reason to deny approval of a settlement when the 4 direct notice reached over 95% of class members); Kutzman v. Derrel's Mini Storage, Inc. (E.D. Cal.
5 Oct. 5, 2020) 2020 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 185351, at *27-28 (stating that in determining the fairness of a 6 class action settlement, an absence of a large number of objections to the settlement or the claims rate 7 creates a strong presumption that the terms are favorable to the class).<sup>3</sup> EisnerAmper will continue 8 to intake and analyze claims postmarked by the claims filing deadline of June 24, 2025. Id.

9 As of the close of the period for objections and opt-outs, of the almost 60,000 Class members 10 who received notice, EisnerAmper received only fourteen timely requests for exclusion and five 11 objections. Id. ¶¶ 16-17. The small number of opt-outs in comparison to the overall class size weighs 12 in favor of approval of the Settlement. See Chavez, 162 Cal.App.4th at 53 (finding settlement fair and 13 reasonable where 1,234 members, or 0.2 percent of the class, opted out); 7-Eleven Owners, 85 14 Cal.App.4th 1152-53 (approving settlement and stating that response of absent class members was 15 “overwhelmingly positive” where only 1.5 percent elected to opt out). The reaction of the Class 16 indicates an endorsement of the Settlement and supports final approval.

17 Plaintiffs submit that the highly successful notice program implemented pursuant to the 18 Settlement meets the requirements of due process and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 and should 19 be finally approved.

23
24 <sup>3</sup> The claims rate in this case is in line with—if not exceeds—the claims rate of many other data 25 privacy settlements approved by courts nationwide. See, e.g., In re Forefront Data Breach Litig., 26 2023 WL 6215366, at *4 (E.D. Wis. Mar. 22, 2023) (“A claims rate of 1.46% is generally in line with

0.23% claims rate); Desue v. 20/20 Eye Care Network, Inc., 2023 WL 4420348, at *9 (S.D. Fla. July 8, 2023) (approving claims rate of 0.66%).

1 IV. Legal Argument

2 A. Legal Standards for Final Approval

3 Rule 3.769 of the California Rules of Court sets forth the procedures for settlement of class 4 actions in California. Cellphone Termination Fee Cases (2009) 180 Cal.App.4th 1110, 1118. At final 5 approval, the trial court confirms its preliminary determination “whether a settlement was fair and 6 reasonable, whether notice to the class was adequate, whether certification of the class was proper, 7 and whether the attorney fee award was proper.” Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc. (2001) 91 8 Cal.App.4th 224, 234-35; see also In re Microsoft I–V Cases (2006) 135 Cal.App.4th 706, 723; and 9 Dunk v. Ford Motor Co. (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 1794, 1802.

10 In exercising its discretion, “[d]ue regard . . . should be given to what is otherwise a private 11 consensual agreement between the parties.” 7-Eleven Owners for Fair Franchising v. Southland 12 Corp. (2000) 85 Cal.App.4th 1135, 1145. California courts favor settlement, particularly in class 13 actions and other complex cases in which substantial resources can be conserved by avoiding the 14 time, cost, and rigors of formal litigation. See In re Microsoft, 135 Cal.App.4th at 723 n. 14 (“Public 15 policy generally favors the compromise of complex class action litigation.”); 7-Eleven Owners, 85
16 Cal.App.4th at 1151; Stambaugh v. Sup. Ct. (1976) 62 Cal.App.3d 231, 236; and 2 Newberg on Class 17 Actions, Settlement of Class Actions § 11.41 (citing cases).

18 In reviewing a class action settlement, the trial court need not “reach any ultimate conclusions 19 on the contested issues of fact and law which underlie the merits of the dispute, for it is the very 20 uncertainty of outcome in litigation and avoidance of wasteful and expensive litigation that induce 21 consensual settlements.” 7-Eleven Owners, 85 Cal.App.4th at 1145. As such, “the settlement or 22 fairness hearing is not to be turned into a trial or rehearsal for trial on the merits” of Plaintiffs’ claims.
23 Id.; see also Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 246. The focus is on whether the proposed settlement is fair, 24 reasonable, and adequate under the circumstances of the case at bar. See In re Microsoft, 135 25 Cal.App.4th at 723; see also Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801.

1           B.       The Proposed Settlement Is Fair, Adequate, And Reasonable

2                   1.   The Settlement Is Entitled to a Presumption of Fairness

3           “[A] class action settlement is presumed to be fair [where]: (1) the settlement is reached 4 through arm’s-length bargaining; (2) investigation and discovery are sufficient to allow counsel and 5 the court to act intelligently; (3) counsel is experienced in similar litigation; and (4) the percentage of 6 objectors is small.” Chavez v. Netflix, Inc. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 43, 52-53; Kullar v. Foot Locker
7 Retail, Inc. (2008) 168 Cal.App.4th 116, 128.

8                   2.   The Settlement Is the Product of Arm’s-Length Negotiations By Informed 9                   Counsel

10           First, the Settlement Agreement was only reached through arm’s-length bargaining through 11 the assistance of well-respected third-party mediator Hon. Jay Gandhi. Declaration of Vess A. Miller 12 in Support of Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (“Miller 13 Decl.”) ¶ 3. Counsel for both Parties has weighed the strengths and weaknesses of the case, examined 14 all of the issues and, as a result, endorse the proposed Settlement. Id. ¶ 48. The parties had engaged 15 in sufficient litigation and discovery to enable each side to evaluate the risks and value of the claims.
16 The Parties have conducted written discovery, including the exchange of factual disclosures, records 17 pursuant to requests for production, and verified responses to written interrogatories, and such 18 discovery has enabled each party to understand and assess the detail and substance of their respective 19 claims and defenses. Id. ¶ 4. Thus, the evidence demonstrates that the proposed settlement is the 20 product of serious, informed negotiations reached through extensive, arms-length bargaining.

21                   3.   Counsel is Experienced in Similar Litigation

22           Third, Class Counsel has extensive experience in data breach and class action litigation. Id. ¶ 23 5 & Exs. B–E. Class Counsel is particularly experienced in litigation involving the use of Pixel 24 tracking technology and the disclosure of personally identifiable information. Id. Accordingly, Class 25 Counsel’s assessment is entitled to great weight, and strongly supports final approval of the 26 Settlement. See Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 180; and Kullar, 168 Cal.App.4th at 129.

4. There is Almost No Opposition to the Settlement

In the case of few opt-outs and/or objectors, courts have uniformly held that such settlements are fair and adequate. See Chavez, 162 Cal.App.4th at 53; 7-Eleven Owners, 85 Cal.App.4th at 1152-53 (8 out of 5,454 class members objecting). Here, after direct notice to 58,273 class members, there are only thirteen (13) opt-outs and five objections – each of which were submitted through the Website’s online form and, of the five, only three of which contained any kind of description of their objection at all. Aldridge Decl. ¶¶ 11, 16-17.

As to the substance of those objections, they fall into two categories: 1) complaints about the adequacy of the settlement to address Defendants’ use of tracking technologies; and 2) Class members’ desire for greater compensation from the settlement. See Objections, attached to the Aldridge Decl. as Exhibit C. However, the merits of the underlying class claims are not a basis for upsetting the settlement of a class action. See, e.g., Officers for Justice v. Civil Service Com'n, etc. (9th Cir. 1982) 688 F.2d 615, 625 (Officers for Justice); City of Detroit v. Grinnell Corporation, supra, 495 F.2d at p. 455 (“The fact that a proposed settlement may only amount to a fraction of the potential recovery does not, in and of itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should be disapproved.”); Linney v. Cellular Alaska Partnership, 151 F.3d 1234, 1238(9th Cir. 1998) (“This court has aptly held that ‘it is the very uncertainty of outcome in litigation and avoidance of wasteful and expensive litigation that induce consensual settlements. The proposed settlement is not to be judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might have been achieved by the negotiators.’” (italics omitted)).

As to the objections themselves, as discussed above, the Class members are receiving more than adequate compensation for their claims and the overwhelming majority of the claimants have no objection to the settlement – indeed, the claim rate of over 12% indicates that Class members were motivated by the adequacy of the settlement to submit claims. Injunctive relief that prevents the use of tracking technology other than those named in the Complaint are beyond the scope of this litigation and, if Defendants did in the future employ tracking technologies that violate state and/or federal law, individuals including Class members would be free to bring suit to assert their rights.

1 The court must determine the settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. See Dunk, 48
2 Cal.App.4th at pp. 1800–1801.) “‘Due regard,’ ... ‘should be given to what is otherwise a private 3 consensual agreement between the parties. The inquiry “must be limited to the extent necessary to 4 reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or 5 collusion between, the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, reasonable 6 and adequate to all concerned.” 7–Eleven Owners, 85 Cal.App.4th at p. 1145; quoting from Dunk, 48 7 Cal.App.4th at pp. 1801.

8 For all the reasons discussed below, the settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable, and the 9 overwhelming majority of the Class has no objection. As such, this factor weighs in favor of 10 settlement approval and the Court should find that the “presumption of fairness” applies in this case.

11 5. The Settlement Is Fair, Adequate, and Reasonable

12 In assessing the fairness of a settlement, the court may consider several factors, including “the 13 strength of Plaintiffs’ case, the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation, the 14 risk of maintaining class action status through trial, the amount offered in settlement, the extent of 15 discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings, the experience and views of counsel, the 16 presence of a governmental participant, and the reaction of the class members to the proposed 17 settlement.” In re Microsoft, 135 Cal.App.4th at 723. The list of factors is not exclusive, and the court 18 is free to engage in balancing and weighing factors depending on the circumstances of the case. Dunk, 19 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801.

20 6. The Strength of Plaintiffs’ Case and the Risk, Expense, Complexity and 21 Likely Duration of Further Litigation

22 To assess the adequacy of a class action settlement, the Court should weigh the risk inherent 23 in continued litigation against the immediacy and certainty of substantial settlement proceeds. See 24 Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 1801-02; Wershba, 91 Cal.App.4th at 250-51.

25 Although Plaintiffs believes their case is strong, such confidence must be tempered by the fact 26 that the Settlement is beneficial (providing a significant, immediate return) and that there were 27 significant risks of less or no recovery, particularly in a complex case such as this one involving an 28 uncertain class of individuals whose information may have been disclosed, undecided legal issues

1 that may have resulted in dismissal of part or all of Plaintiffs claims, and factual issues as to the 2 question of the type of information the tracking technologies disclosed .

3 Class Counsel is convinced that the Settlement is in the best interests of the Class based on 4 detailed knowledge of the issues presented during negotiations. Miller Decl. ¶ 6. In negotiating the 5 Settlement, Class Counsel carefully considered the compensation of Class Members; specifically, 6 Class Counsel balanced the Settlement against the possible outcomes of a trial on the merits. Id. ¶¶
7 6-8. The risks of trial and the normal “perils” of litigation were all weighed in reaching the Settlement.
8 Here, litigating the case through to trial would have been expensive, required extensive resources, 9 involved substantial risk, and would not have been fully resolved for years. Even if Plaintiffs were 10 to expend the time and resources litigating the case and prevail at trial, the Class would face additional 11 risks if Defendants appealed or moved for a new trial. See In re Apple Computer Sec. Litig. (N.D.
12 Cal. 1991) 1991 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15608 (jury verdict for Plaintiffs exceeding $100 million; the court 13 overturned the verdict and ordered a new trial). Thus, any monetary and injunctive relief, which is 14 not guaranteed and likely would not be as substantial as what Plaintiffs has achieved with this 15 Settlement, would likely be delayed. In contrast, the Settlement provides significant and certain relief 16 that is available now as opposed to a fraction of this recovery potentially and hypothetically in the 17 distant future.

18 Further, complex class actions can be expensive and time-consuming to prosecute. Indeed, 19 the Parties’ additional expert costs would quickly accumulate as a result of, for example, expert 20 depositions, rebuttal reports, oppositions to expert challenges, testimony, and travel expenses, which 21 could quickly lead to a scenario in which settlement might not be economically feasible for either 22 party. The alternative to a class/collective settlement – i.e., individual litigation – fares no better, as 23 it would tax private and judicial resources over a period of several years. As such, the Settlement is 24 consistent with the “overriding public interest in settling and quieting litigation” that is “particularly 25 true in class action suits.” Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp. (9th Cir. 1976) 529 F.2d 943, 950.

26 Class Counsel also carefully considered the time value of the present settlement, the fact that 27 changes will be made to the Covered Products’ advertising, and the monetary relief that will be 28 provided to members of the Class. The Settlement creates an enforceable legal obligation with respect

1 to those changes. Because the Settlement provides immediate and significant relief, without the 2 attendant risks of continued litigation, the Court should approve the Settlement as fair, reasonable, 3 and adequate.

4 7. The Amount Offered in Settlement

5 This factor strongly favors approval. The cash payment is more than a fair compromise to the 6 Class. It is well-established that “[t]he proposed settlement is not to be judged against a hypothetical 7 or speculative measure of what might have been achieved had Plaintiffs prevailed at trial.” Wershba, 8 91 Cal.App.4th at 246. Indeed, “even if ‘the relief afforded by the proposed settlement is substantially 9 narrower than it would be if the suits were to be successfully litigated,’ this is no bar to a class action 10 settlement because ‘the public interest may indeed be served by a voluntary settlement in which each 11 side gives ground in the interest of avoiding litigation.’” Id. at 250.

12 The expenses to continue to prosecute this case would have been substantial in light of the 13 need for expert testimony from multiple disciplines, including hair growth products, economics, 14 conjoint analysis, and marketing. Were this case to proceed, additional expert costs would quickly 15 accumulate as a result of expert depositions, rebuttal reports, oppositions to any Sargon challenges, 16 testimony, and travel expenses. The additional accumulation of such costs could quickly lead to a 17 scenario in which settlement might not be economically feasible for either party.

18 Although Plaintiffs believe in the merits of their claims, success is not guaranteed. Should 19 litigation continue, Plaintiffs face significant risks. Data privacy and Tracking Tool cases are 20 complex, with novel issues and evolving laws posing hurdles even at the pleading stage (such as 21 motions to compel arbitration) and at class certification. See, e.g., Frasco v. Flo Health, Inc., 2024 22 WL 4280933 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 23, 2024) (granting summary judgment in part in pixel tracking case).
23 Further, if litigation were to continue, Defendants would continue to vigorously defend the case and 24 the litigation could potentially span for years. Considering all of this, Plaintiffs’ likelihood of success 25 at trial is not certain. Considering these risks, the $850,000.00 non-reversionary Settlement Fund is a 26 substantial recovery for the Settlement Class. The Settlement benefits are, therefore, fair, adequate, 27 and reasonable compared to the range of possible recovery.

1                   8. The Extent of Discovery Completed and the Stage of Proceedings

2           The Settlement came after several months of pre-suit investigation, negotiations, and 3 litigation—Plaintiffs had a thorough understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of the case 4 sufficient to support the reasonableness of the Settlement and its terms. Miller Decl. ¶ 4. The parties 5 have conducted written discovery, including the exchange of factual disclosures, records pursuant to 6 requests for production, and verified responses to written interrogatories, and such discovery has 7 enabled each party to understand and assess the detail and substance of their respective claims and 8 defenses. Id. Class Counsel also conducted a significant factual investigation into the use of third-9 party tracking software on certain web properties through consultation with experts and through the 10 exchange of information with Defendants. Id.

11           Accordingly, Class Counsel acted efficiently in obtaining adequate information to determine 12 that the Settlement is fair and reasonable. Counsel’s assessment is entitled to great weight, and 13 strongly supports approval of the proposed Settlement. See Dunk, 48 Cal.App.4th at 180.

14                   9. The Experience and Views of Counsel

15           Counsel for the Parties are experienced and respected class action attorneys and believe the 16 settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable. Class Counsel’s endorsement is entitled to great weight 17 following arms-length settlement negotiations. See Nat’l Rural Tele. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc. (C.D.
18 Cal. 2004) 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 (“‘Great weight’ is accorded to the recommendation of counsel, who 19 are most closely acquainted with the facts of the underlying litigation.”). Indeed, as the DIRECTV 20 court explained, counsel “are better positioned than courts to produce a settlement that fairly reflects 21 each party’s expected outcome in the litigation.” Id. (quoting In re Pacific Enters. Sec. Litig. (9th Cir.
22 1995) 47 F.3d 373, 378). As such, absent a finding of fraud or collusion, settlement agreements 23 negotiated and endorsed by experienced counsel are presumptively fair and reasonable. See Dunk, 48
24 Cal.App.4th at 1802.

25           The Parties favor the Settlement, as evidenced by the many months of negotiation leading up 26 to the Settlement. Class Counsel is capable and experienced in class action and consumer litigation 27 and, in particular, litigation involving the use of tracking technologies in disclosing the information 28 of individuals. See Miller Decl. ¶ 5 & Exs. B–E (Firm Resumes). By virtue of its investigation, Class

Counsel was able to thoroughly evaluate the respective strengths and weaknesses of the Parties' positions and the extent of available recovery. Class Counsel worked diligently to secure the best possible result for the Class through vigorous, arms-length negotiations. Class Counsel's views and recommendations concerning the Settlement are the product of a thorough analysis and consideration of the issues and risks of continued litigation. Class Counsel believes that Settlement results are exceptionally fair, adequate, and reasonable. Because the Parties and their counsel agree that the Settlement is fair and provides valuable benefits to the Settlement Class, this factor favors final approval.

10. The Reaction of Class Members to the Proposed Settlement

Settlement Class Members have indicated an overwhelmingly positive response to the proposed Settlement. There have been 7,487 claims submitted, representing a valid claims rate of 12.5%. Aldridge Decl. ¶ 15; see also Duran v. Obesity Research Institute, LLC (2016) 1 Cal. App. 5th 635, 642-644 (approving class settlement where 895 claims forms were submitted after notice was sent to 237,334 class members, representing a claims rate of less than 1%); Law Enforcement Officer v. J2 Web Servs. (LA Super. Mar. 24, 2017) 2017 Cal. Super. LEXIS 8113, at *12-13 (approving class settlement where 520 claims forms were submitted after notice was sent to 167,569 class members, representing a claims rate of less than 1%); Bayat v. Bank of the West (N.D. Cal. Apr. 15, 2015) 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 50416 (settlement with claims rate of 1.9% approved); Abante Rooter & Plumbing v. Pivotal Payments (N.D. Cal. Oct. 15, 2018) 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 232054, at *13-15 (holding that a 2% claims rate is not a reason to deny approval of a settlement when the direct notice reached over 95% of class members); Kutzman v. Derrel's Mini Storage, Inc. (E.D. Cal. Oct. 5, 2020) 2020 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 185351, at *27-28 (stating that in determining the fairness of a class action settlement, an absence of a large number of objections to the settlement or the claims rate creates a strong presumption that the terms are favorable to the class).

Additionally, the small number of opt-outs in comparison to the overall class size weighs in favor of approval of the Settlement. See 7-Eleven Owners, 85 Cal.App.4th 1152-53 (approving settlement and stating that response of absent class members was "overwhelmingly positive" where 80 class member opted out and there were 9 objectors of a class of 5,500); see also Chavez, 162

1 Cal.App.4th at 53 (finding settlement fair and reasonable where 1,234 members, or 0.2 percent of the 2 class, opted out). Here, out of tens of thousands of class members, only 14 class members opted-out, 3 and just 5 objected. Aldridge Decl. ¶¶ 16-17. The reaction of the Class indicates an endorsement of 4 the Settlement and supports final approval.

5 C. Notice to the Class Was Adequate and Fulfilled Due Process.

6 In assessing notice in a class action settlement, “[t]he standard is whether the notice has a 7 ‘reasonable chance of reaching a substantial percentage of the class members.’” Wershba, 91 8 Cal.App.4th at 251. Here, the notice was sent directly to Class Members. Therefore, as the Court 9 determined at preliminary approval, the class notice for this action exceeds the applicable due process 10 requirements. This factor weighs in favor of final approval.

11 D. The Court Should Confirm Certification of The Class

12 In connection with preliminary approval of the settlement, the Court found that the proposed 13 Settlement Class met all the requirements of California Code of Civil Procedure Section 382 and 14 certified, for settlement purposes, the Settlement Class. See Preliminary Approval Order at ¶ 6. In the 15 absence of any new evidence that requires revisiting the issue, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the 16 Court confirm certification of the Class.

17 V. Conclusion

18 Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the proposed Settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable.
19 Further, experienced counsel recommends that the Settlement is in the best interest of the Settlement 20 Class in light of the risks in continued litigation. Accordingly, Plaintiffs request that the Court issue 21 an order granting final approval of the Settlement.
